Descendant of Rev. Gronow Owen, of Wales, Finds Burial Place in Brunswick County.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Lawrenceville, Va., May 23 .-- An interesting story of a former rather obscure, though later a famous poet, who once resided in Brunswick County, was revived by the search of David Lloyd. of Wales, who came to Lawrenceville recently seeking the burial place and the relatives of one of his ancestors, Rev. Gronow Owen, rector of St. Andrew's Parish, Brunswick County, 1760-1789. With the help of Rev. A. P. Gray, Jr., present rector of St. Andrew's Church, and R. T. Michael, of Lawrenceville, Mr. Lloyd spent several days examining the old parish and county records, and in questioning old inhabitants as to the traditions of the life and death of his relative, Gronow life and death of his relative, Gronow

Enough information was obtained to make it possible to locate the original Owen plantation. After interviewing the owners of the farms into which the owners of the farms into which the plantation was divided, the party was able to locate what is firmly be-lieved to be the burial place of Rev. Gronow Owen, a famous Welsh poet. It is on the land of a prosperous negro farmer, Green Allen, in the Reedy Creek neighborhood. The lot is over-grown with vines and underbrush, and no stone nor inscription marks the is registered most ostensibly in its clothes productions, and this season in a greater degree than ever. The summit of perfection has been reached in the truly magnificent creations for the spring and summer of 1913—garments that are replete with the highest attainments of the best skilled designers, cutters and workmen. Never have been attained such graceful drape and outline as revealed in the various models, nor have fabrics and patterns ever appeared to such excellent advantage as presented in the finished garments.

The Suits at $12.50, $15 and $18

totally eclipse every attainment in clothes quality and clothes value-giving. At either price style upon style of strictly pure wool fabric fancy worsteds, nobby cassimeres and Scotches and the ever popular blue serges. Strictly hand-tailored throughout, as perfect in every detail as the exclusive custom tailor furnishes at just double the cost. We invite particular attention to our young men's handsome Norfolk. English, College and Shapeleigh models at these popular prices.

At $20, $25 and $30

we are showing garments that will prove a revelation to the man whose tastes and ideas have long induced him to pay the tailor's exorbitant prices. He will find the identical fabrics and trimmings-identical quality and character of workmanship applied-garments possessing every feature of style, appearance, finish and fit-in short, clothes as good in every point as his highly-paid-for tailor creations at just about one-half the cost to him. A look costs you nothing, but may prove of every benefit and advantage.

An important change in the bill as it passed the House, it was reported to-day, has been made by Senator Stone's committee in the metal schedule. It is declared to have decided to put pig iron and ferro-menganese on the free list. The Underwood bill levies a 10 per cent duty on pig iron and 15 per cent on ferro-menganese, used in the manufacture of steel. An aggument over these rates developed in the House, Majority Leader Underwood and Representative Palmer, of Pennsylvania, maintaining they should not be free listed, because they were a good source of revenue. The Senate subcommittee is said to have reversed this decision, maintaining that they are both products of the United States Steel Corporation and raw material for the independent steel manufacturer, and should be on the free list for that reason.
